

20 & 21 JANUARY 2022 | Virtual Meeting

SingHealth Duke-NUS
Memory & Cognitive Disorder Centre
NURSING SCIENTIFIC
MEETING 2022

Topic Highlights

20 January 2022, 8.00am - 12.45pm

- Overview of the clinical signs and symptoms of dementia
- The “challenging” behaviour - who is being challenged?
- Plan activities for our patients living with dementia
- Role of Person Centred Care (PCC) in a hospital setting
- Communicating with the patient living with dementia
- Can we prevent hospital associated complications for our patients living with dementia?
- Optimising nutrition for geriatric patients with Dementia
- Optimise our patients’ function to prevent functional decline

21 January 2022, 8.30am - 1.25pm

- Risk factors for falls among the patients living with dementia
- Measures to reduce falls in the hospital setting
- Osteoporosis care for patients with dementia
- Dementia and urinary incontinence
- Management of continence issues in the hospital setting - diapers and catheters for all?
- Managing medication compliance among our patients living with dementia
- Supporting caregivers of patients living with dementia
- Caring for our patients living with advanced dementia

Information & Registration

Scan the QR Code or visit

<https://www.nni.com.sg/events/education/sddc-nursing>

This meeting is conducted online via Zoom.

Organised By

Memory & Cognitive Disorder Centre

Sponsored By

